

USC UNIVERSITY CENTER
FOR EXCELLENCE IN DEVELOPMENTAL DISABILITIES

USC University of Southern California

Presents the second webinar in the 2015 Policy Issues in Developmental Disability Series:

The California Coordinated Care Initiative: What Self-Advocates and Families Need to Know

Thursday, February 12, 2015

10:00—11:00 a.m. PST

Learn about:

- > What is the CCI?
- > Who is affected by the CCI?
- > How are beneficiaries affected by the CCI in Los Angeles County?
- > How does enrollment work in Los Angeles County?
- > What can advocates do to help themselves, their clients and loved ones?

This webinar is designed for people with developmental disabilities, family members and advocates. The format includes a presentation and Q & A session. Professionals are welcome to attend. However, the Q & A session will give top priority to consumers and family members.

Speaker Amber Cutler is a staff attorney with National Senior Citizens Law Center, where she advocates on issues related to preserving and strengthening critical health benefits programs that assist low-income older adults.

Please register by 5:00 p.m. PST on February 25, 2015 at:

<http://uscucedd.enterthemeeting.com/m/AK7DYBGU>

Contact Michelle Rojas Soto at mrojassoto@chla.usc.edu or (323) 361-4617 with any questions.

Note: You will need a computer with internet access to view the presentation.
You will need a phone to access the webinar audio.

www.uscucedd.org